DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 U.S.C. § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1, 4-15, 17-22, and 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yamasita et al (4,362,677)(hereinafter '377), in view of Applicant's admissions. This rejection is discussed in paper No.6 and is maintained.

3. Claims 2-3, and 16 are allowed over the prior art of record. The combination of rinsing and stretching the membrane is not found in the prior art of record. Applicant admits that conventional spinneret technology is used in the process of making the membrane, the step of stretching while rinsing and prior to drying the membrane is not found in the prior art of record, and therefor, the variations on membrane water flow are distinct as compared to the prior art of record.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed 4/22/03 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Arguments in regard to the mixing of solvents and /or pore former in the process of making the membrane are not persuasive. The addition of mono and polyhydric alcohols, e.g. methanol, ethylene glycol, propylene glycol, etc., as solvents (or inherent pore pore formers), and NMP, DMA and water in the membrane mixture composition (spinning solution) is disclosed in reference '677. Adjusting the percentages to a desire ratio to vary membrane pore structure it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made, e.g adding larger amount of the more volatile compound is expected to produce larger pores on the membrane structure when subjected to coagulation or heating, e.g. extraction of the residual compounds from the membrane. Mixing solvents for the EVA compounds at a desired range is recognized admitted prior art. Reference '544 (of record) recognized solvents for EVA copolymer as: DMS, DMA, Methylpyrrolidone, Pyrrolidone or a combination of such solvents; additionally recognized solvents are monohydric alcohols, polydric alcohols, phenol, and mixtures with water (column 1, last paragraph). For the reasons discussed above, the rejection is maintained.

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR

1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

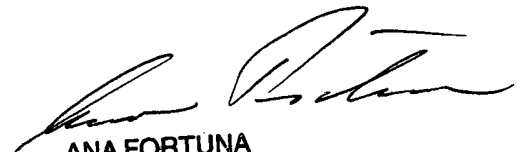

6. A telephone interview was made with Mathew Jacob to indicate allowable subject matter and discuss an Examiner's amendment, an agreement was not reached.
